PROFILE

At 17 he was already a member of a technology website called Mac Magazine (macmagazine.com.br). At 20, Eduardo joined a communications company, where he remained for four years creating advertisement for companies such as Petrobras and Banco do Brasil, as well as taking part in leader business magazines. In 2008, the talented designer was invited to take part in the web design team of TV Globo. Claudio Eduardo is also responsible for the concept and graphic design of "Conceito A" magazine, a trademark in Rio's architecture and decoration industry. Now, from all his experience, Eduardo strives for new challenges.
